Proprietary information consists of trade secrets, designs, methods, programs, plans and any other data or information, whether in documentary form or not, and whether identified as proprietary or not, which is not freely and widely known or distributed outside TSRI to the general public.

During the term of my employment and for a period of one year thereafter, I hereby agree to not disclose any proprietary information of TSRI to any party other than to TSRI and to employees of TSRI who need such information in the course of their work for TSRI. I agree to refrain from using or disclosing any proprietary information of TSRI for my own account or for the account of any person other than TSRI. In accordance with the Bylaws of the Staff as well as the Administrative Guidelines, Policies and Procedures, this agreement is not to be construed to limit professional staff and non-staff professionals appointed at TSRI from carrying out their professional work with regard to their continued research, and to the publication or presentations of their own research results.

During the term of my employment and in accordance with the Bylaws of the Staff, I hereby agree to disclose and assign to TSRI any and all rights, title and interest in and to any invention, idea, or confidential information, whether or not patentable, made or conceived by me alone or in conjunction with others, which: 1) is made with the equipment, supplies, facilities, confidential information, or time of TSRI, or 2) relates in any manner to the business of TSRI, or 3) is suggested by or results from work performed by me for or on behalf of TSRI.
